Dean landslip information

Current Position

- The Council (“CEC”) has raised legal proceedings against a number of parties in respect of the landslip at the Dean Path
- Before steps can be taken to reopen the path, the causes of the slippage require to be identified and measures to prevent further slippage implemented
- Public safety and future amenity of the area remain paramount
- Technical investigations are progressing well and CEC is in close communication with all relevant parties to identify a suitable solution
- Once a practical solution is identified it will require agreement between CEC and the neighbouring owner(s)

Update

The council have authorised the use of funds to jointly meet the cost of specialist engineers to design and provide costings for the retaining works. The case has been delayed until 30th October 2019 for discussions.
